VOLUME CVI.---NO 155. ALEXANDRIA, VA., SATURDAY EVENING, JULY 1, 1905. PRICE 2 CENTS.

Let go or die. That's the alternative of the shipwrecked man with the money bags. A great many people have a like alternative before them. Business men come to a point where the doctor tells them that they must "let go or die." Probably he advised a sea voyage or mountain air. There's an obstinate cough that won't be shaken off. The lungs are weak and perhaps bleeding. There is emaciation and other symptoms of disease, which if unskilfully or improperly treated terminate in consumption.

Thousands of men and women in a like condition have found complete healing by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

"It gives me pleasure to send you this testimonial so that some other poor sufferer may be saved, as I was, by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery," writes Geo. A. Thompson, of Sheldon Ave., Chatham, Ont., Canada. "I had a cough for years, expectorated a great deal, and was slowly failing. Was losing flesh every day. Lost in weight from 150 pounds down to 128. My flesh got soft and I had no strength. Did not say anything to any one but made up my mind that the end was not far off. One day my wife was reading in the 'Common Sense Medical Adviser' about Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and I said, that sounds more like common sense than anything else that I had heard. I at once bought a bottle of your famous remedy and before I had taken half of one bottle I felt better. Took thirteen bottles and it made a new man of me. I gained sixteen pounds and never have had a cough since. I feel splendid and give all the credit to your medicine."

Given away. The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. The book contains 1008 pages, over 700 illustrations and several colored plates. Send 21 one-cent stamps for the paper-bound book, or 31 stamps for the cloth bound. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Pierce's Pleasant Pellets

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure bad, foul stomach and constipation and so help to cure nearly every disease of mankind. They regulate, tone up and invigorate Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

UNHAPPINESS DISPELLED.

Men and Women Unanimous About It.

Many women weep and wail and refuse to be comforted because their once magnificent tresses have become thin and faded. Many men incline to profanity because the flies bite through the thin thatch on their craniums. It will be good news to the miserable of both sexes, to learn that Newbro's Herpicide has been placed upon the market. This is the new scalp germicide and antiseptic that acts by destroying the germ or microbe that is the underlying cause of all hair destruction. Herpicide is a new preparation, made after a new formula on an entirely new principle. Anyone who has tried it will testify as to its worth. Try it yourself and be convinced. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

Scandal in Government Printing Office.

The testimony given by Public Printer Palmer yesterday before the commission appointed by President Roosevelt to investigate Mr. Palmer's action in giving out a contract for 72 additional Lanston type-setting machines was of a kind that caused a most painful sensation.

The Public Printer admitted that he had concluded the contract for the 72 Lanston machines, after two or three conferences held, not in his office at the government printing office, but at the private residence of J. Maury Dove, the president of the Lanston Company, and after one or two visits to the residence of Gen. L. T. Michener, of the law firm of Dudley & Michener, the attorneys for the Lanston Company.

Mr. Palmer explained that he and Mr. Dove were "old friends," and it was more "convenient" to call on him at his own home than to have him come to the government printing office. The contract for the 72 Lanstons, which is the cause of the investigations was offered in evidence. It was shown that this contract had been drawn in the office of Dudley & Michener, and bore on the back the stamp of a woman type-writter who is employed in the offices of Dudley & Michener.

The Mergenthaler lawyers inquired of Mr. Palmer whether it was customary to allow the lawyers for persons making contracts with the government printing office to draw these instruments. Mr. Palmer admitted that it was not, and all other contracts, as far as he could recall, had been drawn in the auditing office of the printery.

Mr. Palmer was called as a witness for the Mergenthaler attorneys. This proved something of a surprise, as the Lanston attorneys had prepared to call him as their own witness very naturally, the charges preferred affecting both Mr. Palmer and the Lanston Company.

By this move Mr. Palmer was made the vehicle for introducing considerable documentary evidence.

The cross-examination of Mr. Palmer was not reached when, late in the afternoon, the commission adjourned. It is intended to call Captain Brian today if there is time.

The only other witness heard yesterday was A. L. Bowen, a proofreader. While he was on the stand he told of a conversation with a printing official in the Lanston division of the office. This man advised Mr. Bowen to hold some Lanston stock he had, predicting that it would have a sharp advance. It might go up to 25 or 30, or even 50. The price at the time was about 17. In this connection it was developed that some Washington brokers who have dealt in Lanston stock on the Washington Exchange may be summoned as witnesses to state whether certain persons in the government printing office have traded in Lanston shares.

Official Version of Mutiny.

The battleship Kniaz Potemkin, according to official advices received at the ministry of the interior in St. Petersburg from the governor of the province of Kherson, in which Odessa is situated, left Odessa early yesterday morning for an unknown destination.

The official version of the affair puts an entirely new light on it. It is admitted that the mutiny on the Kniaz Potemkin was the result of a plot concocted by 20 sailors who were members of a revolutionary organization. The complaints against bad food were, it is asserted, mere pretexts.

When the complaint was made to the captain of the battleship he caused the sailors to be drawn up on the decks and asked those who were satisfied to step out, and it was seen that they were in the majority, whereupon the minority, headed by the revolutionists, who are said to have included foreign anarchists, seized the guns and turned them upon their comrades. A bloody scene followed.

Nine officers and many men were killed or jumped overboard, and the mutineers, after placing the remaining officers in irons, took charge of the warship. Commander Golikoff was among those killed. The red flag was hoisted when the Kniaz Potemkin appeared off Odessa.

When the body of Omiltchuk (the man who was shot by the commander of the warship, according to previous reports) was taken ashore for burial it was surrounded by crowds of students and revolutionists, many of whom were Jews. Inflammatory speechs were made, and subsequently some of the revolutionists went on board the ship and assured the sailors of the army's sympathy and readiness to co-operate with them.

The sailors then turned their attention to the ships in the harbor and to the portion of the city along the waterfront, which was soon on fire in many places.

Torture of a Preacher.

The story of the torture of Rev. O. D. Moore, pastor of the Baptist church, of Harpersville, N. Y., will interest you. He says: "I suffered agonies, because of a persistent cough, resulting from the grip. I had to sleep sitting up in bed. I tried many remedies, without relief, until I took Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption Coughs and Colds, which entirely cured my cough, and saved me from consumption." A grand cure for diseased conditions of Throat and Lungs. At E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, druggists; price 50c and $1.00 guaranteed. Trial bottle free.

The Secret of Good Coffee

Even the best housekeepers cannot make a good cup of coffee without good material. Dirty, adulterated and queerly blended coffee such as unscrupulous dealers shovel over their counters won't do. But take the pure, clean, natural flavored

LION COFFEE, the leader of all package coffees—the coffee that for over a quarter of a century has been daily welcomed in millions of homes—and you will make a drink fit for a king in this way:

HOW TO MAKE GOOD COFFEE.

Use LION COFFEE, because to get best results you must use the best coffee.

Grind your LION COFFEE rather fine. Use "a tablespoonful to each cup, and one extra for the pot." First mix it with a little cold water, enough to make a thick paste, and add white of an egg (if egg is to be used as a settler), then follow one of the following rules:

1st. WITH BOILING WATER. Add boiling water, and let it boil THREE MINUTES ONLY. Add a little cold water and set aside five minutes to settle. Serve promptly.

2d. WITH COLD WATER. Add your cold water to the paste and bring it to a boil. Then set aside, add a little cold water, and in five minutes it's ready to serve.

3 DON'TS { Don't boil it too long. Don't let it stand more than ten minutes before serving. Don't use water that has been boiled before.

TWO WAYS TO SETTLE COFFEE.

1st. With Eggs. Use part of the white of an egg, mixing it with the ground LION COFFEE before boiling.

2d. With Cold Water instead of eggs. After boiling add a dash of cold water, and set aside for eight or ten minutes, then serve through a strainer.

Insist on getting a package of genuine LION COFFEE, prepare it according to this recipe and you will only use LION COFFEE in future. (Sold only in 1 lb. sealed packages.)

(Lion-head on every package.)

(Save these Lion-heads for valuable premiums.)

SATURDAY EVENING, JULY 1, 1905.

NOTWITHSTANDING the fact that we live in an era of enlightenment and public schools and have the experience of people who have lived during nearly six thousand years to profit by, there seems to be as much credulity in the world as ever and as many willing dupes as in the days of Joanna Southcote. Recent legal proceeding in Berlin have brought to light the enormous profits being made by a quack doctor named Ausmeier, who abandoned the trade of a carpenter for the more lucrative occupation of trading on public credulity. Ausmeier, while working at his lawful trade, was fascinated by a newspaper report of another quack doctor's profits. He abandoned his carpentry and announced to his fellow-villagers in Kirchgandern, near Arenhauser, in South Germany, that an angel had appeared to him in a vision to tell him that the divine power of working miracles had been conferred on him. The peasants took him at his word, and came for treatment. During the first year of his practice he took in $1,500. This increased to over $15,000 the second year and to $25,000 in the third year. His regular income is now estimated at from $15,000 to $20,000 per annum. A few years ago several suspicious-looking individuals, attired in togas, were going through the United States imposing themselves upon ignorant people as possessing divine power to heal diseases. One of this class, it will be remembered, visited Alexandria eight or nine years ago and went away richer than he came by "blessing" handkerchiefs.

THE AUTHORITIES in New York are about to bring to an end the abuse of the Fourth of July by thoughtless boys and equally thoughtless men who use all sorts of explosives on that occasion and on Independence Day carry on orgies and disorders which make most people miserable. The number of conflagrations, fatal accidents and cases where children are maimed or disfigured increase yearly in places where such acts are tolerated, and the legislators in some States have long since taken measures to suppress the use of firearms and all kinds of explosives on Christmas and Fourth of July. The Virginia legislature several years ago, very wisely, passed a law making it a misdemeanor to discharge what are known as cannon crackers within the bounds of the Commonwealth and it is up to the authorities to see that the law is enforced.

JOHN HAY, Secretary of State, who had been in failing health for some time, died in Newbury N. H., last night. The deceased had recently been critically ill from uremia, although it was thought by the physicians who attended him that they had succeeded in relieving him to such an extent that death was not regarded as immediate although many looked upon his demise as imminent. The deceased was justly recognized as one of the ablest men who ever filled the position of Secretary of State. His natural abilities, long experience in statecraft and his diplomatic training, extending over a period of two score years, had made him a man of recognized ability not only in the United States but throughout the world.

IT IS REPORTED in out of State papers that Congressman Slemp and his son, Mr. Bascomb Slemp, chairman of the State republican committee, have promised to give the State to Mr. Shaw at the next national republican convention. If this is so it is a foolish promise. The Messrs. Slemp should remember that opposed to them are nearly all the old leaders of the party and all those who have failed to secure positions, together with the colored politicians who have just been informed that they are not to be sent as delegates to the next State convention. Then too, the Messrs. Slemp should remember that they can measure the whole State of Virginia Ninth district guage.

DISPATCHES from Russia unmistakably that conditions in the of the Czar are rapidly passing from bad to worse. The dispatch sent out yesterday stating that the mutineers had surrendered the cruiser Kniaz Potemkin is contradicted today, and the statement made that the guns of that vessel are still frowning upon Odessa. Besides all this it is said that other Russian cruisers have been seized by their crews. The following but few dispatches to those intended for St. Petersburg; hence people in that city are as ignorant of the details of recent momentous events as those in North America.

PRESIDENT SCHURMAN, in his address at the Cornell University commencement, Thursday, said he believed that the fact that the total attendance of students is constantly and largely increasing at Cornell, while the number of women there is steadily declining. He thought that it indicated that the movement of women into professional fields had passed its floodtide. It is to be hoped that Mr. Schurman's conclusions are correct.

YELLOW FEVER in Panama is causing the death of victims almost daily, and now it is reported that the bubonic plague has appeared there. There is little likelihood, therefore, that the isthmus, for a time at least, will outrival the Virginia Springs as a summer resort.

From Washington.

Washington, D. C., July 1.

The death of John Hay, whom future historians will doubtless describe as the greatest Secretary of State this country has ever had, has caused the most profound grief here. The suddenness with which the end came was an especial shock to his friends in official and private life who had been led to believe that he was on the rapid road to recovery. Although it had been known for a year or more Mr. Hay was far from being a well man, it was the general opinion here that his recent European tour would be the means of restoring him to comparatively good health. Early this morning, immediately after his arrival at the State Department, acting Secretary of the State Peirce sent the following telegram to every member of the Cabinet: "It is my sad duty to advise you officially of the death of Secretary of State John Hay, at Newbury, N. H., at 12:25 o'clock this morning Signed: Herbert H. D. Peirce." The following dispatch was sent by Mr. Peirce to all American Embassies and Legations abroad: "Secretary Hay died unexpectedly at 12:25 this morning. Display usual symbols of mourning and inform government." The State Department through acting Secretary Peirce, this morning formally notified the members of the foreign diplomatic corps in Washington of the death of Secretary Hay. Notification of the sad event was also cabled to all United States Embassies and legations abroad. Later in the day, in accordance with instructions from President Roosevelt at Oyster Bay, a proclamation on the subject will be issued from the State Department. A number of diplomats called at the State Department this morning to personally express their regrets and the condolences of their governments at the death of Secretary Hay.

Charles J. Bonaparte, of Baltimore, at ten o'clock this morning took the oath of office as Secretary of the Navy to succeed Paul Morton, resigned. The ceremony took place in the private office of the Secretary of the Navy, Mr. E. P. Hanna, solicitor for the Navy Department, administering the usual oath. Besides Secretary Bonaparte and Mr. Hanna, no one was present during the brief ceremony except Assistant Secretary of the Navy Darling. Immediately after Secretary Bonaparte had taken the oath of office as a member of President Roosevelt's Cabinet he sent a telegram of condolence to Mrs. Hay, Secretary of State. At quarter past ten o'clock Secretary Bonaparte officially received the Navy Department bureau chiefs and the subordinate officers stationed in the Department. They were introduced to Secretary Bonaparte by Mr. [illegible] Converse, chief of the Bureau of Navigation. The clerks of the Navy Department were received in a body by the new secretary at eleven o'clock. The [illegible] act performed by Secretary [illegible] was to appoint Mr. H. C. [illegible] private secretary and Mr. R. [illegible] of Pennsylvania, who has been on duty in the Navy Department in a clerical capacity for three years, his confidential clerk. Mr. Gauss, who is a Massachusetts man, served in the capacity of confidential clerk to former Secretaries of the Navy Moody and Morton.

The State Department today received from United States Minister Rockhill, at Pekin, China, a dispatch announcing the promulgation of an order by the Chinese Foreign Office directing all viceroys and governors in China to stop the anti-American agitation and the attempted boycott of American goods. Mr. Rockhill states that this order was only issued after repeated and urgent representation from the American Legation.

The Isthmian Canal Commission had an executive meeting this morning at which all the members were present except Gov. Magoon, who is in Panama. Gen. Davis, the former governor of the canal zone and a member of the new board of consulting engineers was present by request, as was also William Nelson Cromwell, the general counsel of the commission. Most of the time was spent in the reading of the minutes of previous meetings of the executive board and the hearing of reports as to the progress of the work on the isthmus. No new questions were taken up. After a recess of an hour for lunch the commission held another meeting this afternoon. No official notice will be taken of Mr. Wallace's reply to the castigation administered to him by Secretary Taft, but it was announced that the commission has in its possession letters from Mr. Wallace himself putting forward as the main reason for his desire to give up the position of chief engineer of the canal, the fact that he had received an offer of a higher salary which he felt he could not decline. These letters were shown to some of the newspaper men and will be published if it should become necessary.

It is said that while Secretary Taft is away in the Philippines, President Roosevelt will write a letter espousing the cause of the secretary as the logical candidate of the republican party.

The War Department has decided to abandon Fort Grant, Arizona, and has issued orders accordingly. Fort Grant was established to guard the boundary line of the San Carlos Indian reservation, but the peaceful condition of these Indians no longer makes it necessary to keep troops in their vicinity. The one troop of cavalry stationed at Fort Grant is to be ordered elsewhere and the buildings at the post put in the care of a civilian caretaker.

The Panama canal office today received a cable report from Governor Magoon of two additional cases of yellow fever on the isthmus.

Mysterious Disappearance.

Boston, July 1.—Edward Ridgeley, chief of the United States National Bank Examiners of New York, and brother of Wm. Barrett Ridgeley, United States Comptroller of the Currency, has mysteriously disappeared in Boston, to which place he came for the Harvard commencement. His friends here are in a state of the greatest alarm for fear he has become the victim of foul play, and Pinkerton detectives have for two days been searching high and low to find some trace of the missing man, thus far without success.

News of the Day.

Paul Morton relinquished the duties of Secretary of the Navy today. Charles J. Bonaparte, of Baltimore, took the oath of office today as Mr. Morton's successor and assumed the duties devolving upon the civilian head of the navy. Mr. Morton spent yesterday at the Navy Department. In the afternoon Mr. Bonaparte called upon him and met the chiefs of the bureaus, who had assembled in the secretary's office.

Captain Robertson, of the steamer Saudhurst, which arrived at Astoria, Oregon, from Tsingtau, China, said that while he was there the news of Rojestvensky's defeat was received, and the captain of the disabled battleship Czarevitch committed suicide. Another of the Czarevitch's officers, the captain said, while reading an account of the battle of the Sea of Japan which blamed the defeat on the sailors, was overheard by a sailor on the Czarevitch. The sailor, Captain Robertson avowed, picked up a hammer and saying, "It is such men as you who are to blame," brained the officer. Both dead officers were buried the following day.

A special grand jury, called to investigate alleged violations of the Barksdale pure-election law in the recent democratic primary, at Newport News, was discharged last night after reporting that no evidence had been found upon which to base charges against anyone who participated in the primary. The investigation was asked for by Capt. C. C. Berkeley, a defeated candidate for commonwealth's attorney. Reports had it that considerable money was spent in the campaign preceding the primary.

A dispatch from Wytheville says that Samuel Pattison, twenty-two years old, a young farmer living in Crocketts Cove, was shot and killed by his first cousin, Kelly Halsby, eighteen years old, yesterday. Pattison was returning home from Wytheville when he met Halsby. The men had some words and Halsby shot Pattison dead with a gun and escaped to the mountains. Officers are in pursuit. Pattison was soon to have married a Wytheville young lady. This is the fifth murder in that country in less than nineteen months.

CONDITIONS IN RUSSIA.

Martial law has been proclaimed in the district of Sebastopol, and there are rumors of rebellion there and at other important points. Strikes and riots continue in a number of Russian cities.

Nine Russian merchant vessels were burned at Odessa. Several hundred rioters were killed and a greater number wounded. The city is filled with troops. Admiral Kruger's squadron arrived at Odessa at noon yesterday and, according to a dispatch from the American consul, the mutineers surrendered the battleship Kniaz Potemkin without firing a shot.

Several thousand sailors in the imperial navy yards at Cronstadt mutinied, and in the fighting one officer was killed. The mutiny was partly suppressed, but the strike of workmen in the yards continues.

At Libau 4,000 marines and sailors mutinied after breaking into the government stores. In a fight with the troops a number were wounded. They finally surrendered.

There are numerous revolutionists among the sailors and the soldiers, but they lack leadership.

General Czernolucki, chief of the Bessarabia gendarmerie at Kishinef has been murdered.

A dispatch to the Berlin Tageblatt from Odessa, timed 3:52 p. m. yesterday, says: "Mobs estimated to number 12,000 persons attacked the patrols of troops in the streets yesterday, and the fighting continued into the night. Several hundred persons were killed or wounded. The hospitals are crowded with wounded. The petroleum reservoirs were sent on fire and exploded. All traffic in the streets is stopped."

A dispatch to the London Daily Mail from Odessa, dated early this morning, asserts that the Knaiz Potemkin has not surrendered. The dispatch says: "It was reported by the authorities that the Knaiz Potemkin had surrendered unconditionally, but it is now confirmed that she was joined by the battle-ship Georgi Pobledonosetz, whose officers were made prisoners. Both vessels are anchored in the roads and are using searchlights vigorously, as if expecting an attack from the squadron, which is about fifteen miles distant. The commander of the troops has received a telegram from the government ordering him to sink the rebel ships without regard to a possible bombardment. I have information regarding this second mutiny on absolutely reliable authority."

SECRETARY HAY DEAD.

Secretary of State John Hay died at 12:25 this morning at Newbury, N. H. The signs immediately preceding his death were those of pulmonary embolism. Mr. Hay's condition during all of Friday had been entirely satisfactory.

Mrs. Hay and Drs. Scudder and Murphy were at the Secretary's bedside when the end came. The Secretary bade good night to his wife and to his attending physicians about 10 o'clock last night, at the close of one of the best days he had had since his illness. The local trouble was clearing up satisfactorily, according to Dr. Scudder.

The Secretary suffered none of the old pain in his chest which characterized his earlier illness. He had been perfectly comfortable all day, and happy in the anticipation of leaving his bed for the greater freedom and comfort of a couch.

Secretary Hay had long been a prominent figure not only in his own country but throughout the world, he being recognized as a man of extraordinary ability. He was born at Salem, Washington county, Ind., October 8, 1838, and was sixty-six years old.

Mr. Hay came to the State Department, as the head of the Cabinet, September 20, 1898. He had held that place now nearly seven years, in which time have occurred most of the successes on which his fame will rest. All the members of that McKinley Cabinet of 1898, with whom he was associated, have retired, save only the Secretary of Agriculture, Mr. Wilson.

Secretary Hay was of Scotch extraction. His ancestors emigrated to Germany and then settled in Virginia in 1750. One of the first of these to arrive in this country was John Hay and his son Adam, a soldier in the revolution, who counted Washington as a personal friend. The Hays followed the tide of migration from Virginia to Kentucky, and John Hay, son of Adam Hay, finally moved over into Illinois, because it was a free State. The secretary, third of the line to bear the name of John, had from his earliest years a love for books and learning. His father, a prosperous physician of the middle west, fostered this and sent him to college

Mr. Hay's public career up to the time he was appointed Secretary of State, or better, perhaps, up to the time he became Ambassador to Great Britain, was chiefly interesting for the splendid training it gave him for subsequent work. It was a training such as very few men in this country can have. He was in the White House with Lincoln during practically all of Lincoln's service as President. The trying events of that period passed under his observation at one of the most impressable periods of a man's mature life, for Mr. Hay was only twenty-two years of age when he came to Washington with Lincoln. At European capitals he resided sufficiently long enough to become acquainted with European men and methods of thinking. He learned French, German and Spanish, and spoke all of them easily—an immense advantage for one who would make friendships with foreign people and conduct diplomatic negotiations. At times he was in charge of the legation at Paris and also at Vienna.

With all his ripe experience among men of diverse nationalities, Mr. Hay was further reinforced by his five years' service as an editorial writer on the New York Tribune. Horace Greeley, then at the head of the Tribune, characterized Mr. Hay "as the most briiliant writer that had ever entered the office." But journalism had few attractions for him, and in 1875 he left the Tribune to take up his residence in Cleveland, where he remained for ten years before moving to Washington. In 1881, however, he returned to New York for seven months to act as editor-in-chief during the absence in Europe of his friend, Whitelaw Reid.

Thus at fifty-nine Mr. Hay was well equipped for the duties of Ambassador for which McKinley designated him. He knew the Department of State, for he had served there as Assistant Secretary a year and a half under Evarts, one of the ablest men of the period. He was intimate with the official world of Washington, including its foreign representatives. For more than twelve years he had resided in Washington. As a gentleman of culture, education, and wealth, possessing a magnificent residence, he enjoyed the highest social and literary privileges. As a man of letters he was already known to the other side of the Atlantic, and while he was not then distinguished for diplomacy, England welcomed him as one who would fill worthily the position occupied by James Russell Lowell.

He served as ambassador for eighteen months. It would hardly more than suffice for most men to get their bearings. It enabled Mr. Hay not only to lay a splendid foundation for the work he undertook as Secretary of State, by winning the friendship and admiration of the influential men of England, but in that time he also performed very valuable services for his government. The hundred days' war was fought with Spain before McKinley called him back to become Secretary of State.

Secretary Hay had a most interesting personality. He was known as the most charming conversationalist in Washington. His friends delight to recall his quiet wit, and to dwell upon his unostentatious but accurate knowledge. He was the best story-teller in the Cabinet, not even second to Secretary Shaw, who has few superiors. His scrutiny extended to all the events and foibles of the time. His philosophy was unobtrusive but comprehensive. Although he had often been accused of being an aristocrat, he was most accessible. The doors of his office swung open more readily even than the doors to the offices of his subordinates. He worked with almost amazing swiftness. His grasp of business enabled him to dispose in short order of what might prove long tasks to others less experienced.

He was very wealthy, being many times a millionaire. His salary was no incentive to his retaining office. President Roosevelt has been very loth to part with Mr. Hay's services.

As an author Secretary Hay took high rank. He was a master of the English tongue. "Jim Bludso" and "Little Breeches" and other poems in his "Pike County Ballads" are famous the country over. While secretary to the legation at Madrid he wrote "Castilian Days," studies of Spanish life and character, which are fine literary specimens. His most pretentious work was "Life of Abraham Lincoln," which he wrote in collaboration with John G. Nicolay. Secretary Hay published a volume of poems in 1890. He is supposed to have written the novel "Bread Winners."

GRAVE CONDITIONS.

Reported Surrender of Kniaz Potemkin Denied—Other Battleships Said to Have Joined Mutineers.

London, July 1.—A private dispatch to Lloyds, received this morning, says that a second battleship has joined the mutiny. There is no possibility for an early resumption of work in the city and the situation undoubtedly is critical.

St. Petersburg, July 1.—Greatest excitement prevails here in circles where news from Odessa is disseminated. The first report of the surrender of the Kniaz Potemkin was followed by another dispatch contradicting the first story. This message not only denied the surrender of the Kniaz Potemkin, but added that a second battleship had joined her in the mutiny. It is impossible to obtain authentic information. The higher officials of the naval department are manifesting the greatest indifference and are not attending to their duties at the Admiralty. The subordinates frankly confess that they know nothing of what is happening at Odessa. It is stated in some quarters that the second battleship which is reported to have mutinied at Odessa is the Tchesma. Other officials say the vessel is the Georgi Pobiedonozets. The conflict in the reports has given rise to a rumor that the crews of both battleships have revolted and joined the mutiny.

A telegram received this morning from Odessa says that the Black Sea fleet has sailed away from the port and that the Kniaz Potemkin has resumed her former position near the water front from which she threatens the city with her guns.

London, July 1.—A private telegram received this morning from Odessa and dated at 11:20 a. m. says that the town is now quiet and that there are enough soldiers on the ground to insure order. All depends on the action of the battleships.

Another privae message sent from Odessa at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, in reporting the arrival of the Black Sea fleet in the port, says that five of the iron clads have mutinied.

The contradictory nature of the reports from Odessa which have been allowed to pass the censor leaves Europe with practically no information as to what the real situation is in the Black Sea port. As a result of this lack of news the greatest uneasiness is felt in shipping circles here. The unusual lack of news apparently is to be blamed upon the censor.

Sunderland, Eng., July 1.—James Westall, a ship owner here, received a telegram from Odessa this morning saying that five other warships mutinied when they arrived off the port and that they now threaten to bombard the town.

St. Petersburg, July 1.—A telegram which has just been received here and which was filed at Odessa at 3 o'clock states that the mutineers on the Kniaz Petemkin have been transferred to the other warships. The governor of Odessa is master of the situation. Another telegram from Sevatopol says that the report is in circulation there that Vice Admiral Kruger is returning to that port with the sailors of the Kniaz Potemkin. One warship was left behind at Odessa to guard the Potemkin, which is manned by a small crew taken from the other vessels of the squadron. There is no confirmation of the report.

Washington, D. C., July 1.—The State Department this morning received a dispatch from United States Cousul Heenan at Odessa indicating that the Black Sea fleet of Russia was in mutiny. Mr. Heenan's dispatch was dated July 1, 10:10 a. m., and follows: "Fleet reported in mutiny. Two battleships here, the Potemkin and another."

The Dead Secretary.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., July 1.—President Roosevelt learned of the death of Secretary Hay at 3:40 o'clock this morning, the news being brought to Sagamore Hill by a messenger from the village. The President was inexpressibly shocked over the sad intelligence because the last he had heard from the Secretary was a telegram received yesterday and in which Mr. Hay said he was doing very well. The President will attend the funeral of Mr. Hay, when it is held. It is thought here that the services will be held in Washington and that the interment will take place in Cleveland, O., the Secretary's former home. President Roosevelt sent the following telegram to Mrs. Hay.

"Mrs. John Hay, Lake Sunapee, N. H.

"Cannot believe dreadful news. Please accept our deep sympathy in your terrible bereavement. I do not know what to say to express my sorrow.

"THEODORE ROOSEVELT"

Newbury, N. H., July 1—Just before noon Dr. Scudder announced that the funeral will be held in Cleveland, and that the body would leave here on a special train at 11 o'clock tomorrow. The train will run via Claremont Junction and Springfield. The family is already in receipt of a large number of telegrams of condolence but none has been given to the press.

Oyster Bay, July 1.—Secretary Loeb gave out at the executive office this morning the following statement from the President concerning the death of Secretary Hay:

"My sense of deep personal loss, great thought it is, is loss in sense of the bereavement to the whole country in Mr. Hay's death. I was inexpressibly shocked as every one was, for all of us including Mr. Hay's immediate family had supposed that all immediate danger was over, and I had been hoping that the rest during the summer would put him again in good health by the fall. The American people have never had a greater Secretary of State than John Hay, and his loss is a national calamity."

London, July 1.—The deepest regret is expressed in London and all over England over the death of John Hay, Secretary of State. In social and official circles where Mr. Hay was well known, only words of sorrow at the loss of the former secrecrety were to be heard. The same expression of sorrow was heard at Buckingham Palace. King Edward authorized the following statement to be issued:

"The King is deeply grieved to hear of the death of Mr. Hay, especially as he had seen him so recently, when he came to the palace during his stay in London, last month. His Majesty look upon his death as that of a personal friend, which will be a great loss, not only to Mr. Hay's own country, but to the Anglo-American Entente."

The king likewise wrote a personal telegram to President Roosevelt as soon as he heard of Mr. Hay's death. He signed the message himself so that none of the palace officials knew its contents.

The Market.

Georgetown, July 1.—Wheat 65a88.

The Beef Trust.

Chicago, July 1.—After three months delving into the inner workings of the alleged beef trust, the Federal grand jury this morning adjourned after a brief session until 2 p. m. District Attorney Morrison announced that publication of the names of those involved would not be made until after the defendants had been arrested or had furnished bonds. There was an air of excitement around the federal building. The attorneys for the packers were in and out of the district attorney's office, and it was assumed that conferences were being held in regard to producing of indicted persons and the furnishing of bonds. As soon as indictments are returned United States marshals will be sent out with capiases for the arrests of persons named. The names include practically all the heads of the various packing companies.

At noon Assistant United States Attorney Pagin in an interview said four corporations and eighteen men have been indicted by the federal grand jury. At the last moment two names were eliminated from an original list of twenty. Pagin refused to say who they are. The indictments are blanket in form, and extend over seventy pages of typewritten matter. They are declared to be very strong in phraseology.

Murdered in Negro Dive.

Scranton, Pa., July 1.—Two notorious white women were found murdered in bed in a negro dive shortly after one o'clock this morning. One of the victims was Mrs. May Jay, and the other was known as May Wooding. The skulls of both women were crushed in as if the crime had been committed with an axe. The crime is the most shocking and atrocious which has ever occurred in this city. The murdered women had consorted with negroes for many years to the knowledge of the police, and their apartments were on the floor above the quarters of a colored political organization. There is no clue to the perpetrators of the crime, and the only motive assigned for the deed is jealousy.

Injunction Case.

Harrisburg, Pa., July 1.—The injunction case against Hayden and Witz, formerly of the Baltimore Baseball Club, to prevent them from playing with the York Club, was heard in the Dauphin county court today. Baseball men from all over the State are here as the case will probably decide the fate of the Tri-State League. The weight of the argument against the Baltimore management is that the contract contains no seal, that Manager Frank had no right to make a contract with players, and that the contract signed by the players was not binding. No decision has been rendered at 11:30.

Three Persons Asphyxiated.

New York, July, 1.—Three persons were suffocated to death in a fire early this morning at No. 229 Devoe street, Williamsburg. Eight families lived in the house, which was one of a wooden row of buildings. The fire broke out in the hallway and spread rapidly. There was a mad scramble to escape, but the smoke overcame three of the occupants before they could crawl through the windows to the fire escapes. Several persons were more or less hurt in escaping from the building.

More Disturbances.

St. Petersburg, June 1.—Serious disturbance are reported from the province of Kursk in the southern part of European Russia. Prisoners returning from Japan have stirred up the people of the district by their tales to revolt against the continuance of the war and to oppose the government. Troops have been called out, but they have been unable to curb the aroused people who have indulged in serious rioting. It is expected that martial law will be declared.

Cruiser Interned.

Batavia, Java, July 1.—The Russian cruiser Terek has been interned here and must remain until the end of the war. The vessel has been disarmed. Failure on the part of the warship to coal within the required time led to the order for internment.

New York Stock Market.

New York, July 1.—The feature of the stock market during the first hour, was the supply of selling orders all around the room. Transactions so far on the floor consist of picking up of stocks in sight around current quotations. Government bonds unchanged.

Resigned.

London, July 1.—A dispatch to a news agency from St. Petersburg, says that General Sakharoff, the Russian Minister of War, has resigned.

Flight of Airship.

The most remarkable flight ever made in an airship was performed in Toledo, O., yesterday by A. R. Knabenshue, who sailed through the air a distance of three miles, landed on top of a 10-story office building in 25 minutes from the time of starting, and then returned to the spot from which he started.

The day was ideal for the daring feat. A light wind was blowing from the east, and Knabenshue sailed his aerial craft directly in the face of the wind. Two days ago he declared he would sail down town and alight on the top of a 10-story building. When he left the starting place he directed the ship straight for the city. When half the distance had been covered an upper current of air carried him up to a distance of 3,000 feet. But the nervy director did not lose control of his machine for a moment, and steered it directly for the heart of the city. Business was entirely suspended and the entire population gathered in the streets to watch the course of the ship. When directly over the skyscraper Knabenshue directed his craft downward, and alighted on the building with the ease and grace of a bird.

A round of applause greeted the daring navigator, who was less excited than any of the spectators. After examining the ship to see that it was all right, and receiving the congratulations of his friends Knabenshue started on his trip back, and, going with the wind, he made the return voyage in 15 minutes. He declares that his present ship is far superior to others he has navigated, that it is easier managed and that he has solved the problem of aerial navigation.

Negotiation for Armistice.

It is understood in Washington, on good authority, that negotiations are in progress in Manchuria for an armistice, which, it is believed, will be drawn up by Gens. Linevitch and Oyama.

The plan is for the plenipotentiaries to be announced after the armistice has been arranged, but should the negotiations for the armistice fail to indicate an early conclusion, the announcement of the plenipotentiaries may be made in the near future.

Members of the diplomatic corps are for the most part uninformed regarding the negotiations for an armistice, and inquiry at the Russian Embassy and the Japanese Legation last night brought the reply that there was nothing to be said on this subject for the present.

It has been understood in Washington for some time that Russia was not opposed to an armistice, but the earlier exchanges between Japan and the American government did not show a similar willingness on the part of the Tokio government. The Japanese government, however, did suggest that when the time came for an armistice the negotiations should be conducted directly between the commanders in the field.

In view of the President's earnest wish for an armistice, diplomats in Washington believe that he has followed up his initial representations with further suggestions in the effort to bring about a truce before the Washington conferences. The beginning of the rainy season in Manchuria, it is pointed out, will enable both belligerents to sign an armistice for a month or more without weakening the positions of either. This fact, it is believed, furnishes the strongest argument for an immediate armistice.

There is no confirmation in St. Petersburg of a report that Field Marshal Oyama and Gen. Linevitch are arranging an armistice. The negotiations looking to an armistice which were initiated by President Roosevelt came to a sudden standstill when it was found that Japan was unwilling to consider the subject until arrangements for the conference at Washington had been completed, but once the plenipotentiaries are named it is not unlikely these negotiations may be renewed. Dispatches from the front report a lull in operations, and this may be significant.

"Treated Body Like a Dog."

Further evidence was presented in the Hustings Court of Manchester yesterday against Mrs. Estelle Townsend Smith, wife of Shepherd K. Smith, charged with having beaten to death her 7 year old son, Ralph.

The witnesses so far have beeen neighbors of the accused, all women except a doctor, and they have shown a bitter feeling against the prisoner, which her counsel will turn to account. The most important prosecution witness today was Mrs. Lucy A. Haines, who said that she had gone over to the Smith house on the night of the little boy's death. The body covered with scars, she said, was lying in the middle of the floor. The mother, with no show of feeling, picked it up, wrapped a quilt around it, and "threw it on the sofa as though it were a dog." The mother, according to the witness, said that the child had been sick several days. She admitted having whipped him because of an evil habit, and had whipped him only a few minutes before his death.

The defense is relying very largely on medical exports to show that the death of the child was not due directly to the whippings he received.

Oh! That Watermelon.

Derby, Conn., July 1.—Thomas Green, an eight-year-old pickaninny, was detected in a freight car here yesterday gorging himself with watermelons. To avoid capture he leaped into the Naugatuck river and was drowned. He was a good swimmer, but the watermelons inside weighed him down and he sank like a stone.

Strange, Isn't It?

In spite of the fact that grocers as a rule have long ago realized the necessity of catering to their customers' rather than their own desires, there are still a few of the other kind left, who show a marked inclination to persuade customers to take what they do not ask for, or desire.

Take Lion Coffee, for instance, the leader of all package coffees, an established favorite for over twenty-five years in millions of homes, on account of its absolutely pure and uniform quality.

Wouldn't you think it impossible that a single grocer can still exist who would oppose such an invincible argument of merit by trying to persuade a customer to buy loose coffee in preference to Lion Coffee?

Loose coffee has no standard of quality—nobody can guarantee that it is even clean.

Of course, really independent and intelligent women know this, and so do up-to-date grocers, but if women were as particular about coffee as about hats, NO kind of grocer could be without Lion Coffee.

Mr. Lipscomb Acquitted.

Andrew A. Lipscomb, the lawyer charged with embezzling the funds of the Washington Beneficial Endowment Association, of which he was one of the receivers, again took the stand yesterday morning when court convened in Washington. The prosecution called two witnesses in rebuttal of Mr. Lipscomb's testimony, and then court took a recess for luncheon. When court convened for the afternoon session United States Attorney Beach sprung a sensation by asking that Thomas M. Fields, who was a co-receiver with Lipscomb and who has already been convicted of misappropriating the funds of the association, be called. Lipscomb in open court Thursday declared that Fields alone was guilty of taking the money. Fields was yesterday put on the witness stand by the prosecution to contradict this and other statements made by the defendant in his testimony.

The jury in the case of Andrew A. Lipscomb, of Alexandria county, and a prominent Washington attorney, charged with the embezzlement of $16,000 from the Washington Beneficial Endowment Association of which he was co-receiver with Thomas M. Fields, also under indictment, returned a verdict of not guilty this morning, in Washington. The jury was out all night. The verdict was well received. Fields was convicted on the charge.

Musicale.

The residence of Mrs Julia V. Nalls, on south Alfred street, was the scene last night of a delightful musicale. The programme had been selected with care and it was creditably rendered by all who took part. The scholars, under the tuition of Mrs. Nalls, showed considerable proficiency, and were justly complimented for the advancement they had attained. During the evening a sumptuous and seasonable collation was served. The tables had been tastefully spread under a grape arbor and all the appointments were of an inviting nature. The guests having been seated a discussion of the tempting edibles followed, the pleasant southern zephyrs prevailing at the time coursing through the bower and adding a pleasant feature to the occasion. At a late hour the guests departed highly pleased with their evening's enjoyment. The old house was brilliantly lighted and decorated with palms and cut flowers and the spacious lawn presented a handsome appearance lighted with lanterns. About 150 invitations were issued and accepted. Prof. Carlton Padgett with his orchestra was on hand to enliven the occasion. The teacher and scholars were the recipients during the evening of presents and flowers. A number of friends from Washington were present.

Henry Holland fell and sprained one of his ankles on the west side of Fairfax street, between Wilkes and Gibbon, yesterday. The accident was caused by a hole in the pavement.

Burning of Auto.

Great excitement was caused in Broad street in front of the Stock Exchange in New York among curb brokers yesterday by the burning of a sightseeing auto operated by the New York Observation Company. The blaze was caused by insufficient insulation. The car was standing in front of the exchange at the time and the 20 persons it carried were in the gallery inside watching the bulls and bears.

Two other "rubberneck" motors were in front of the building at the same time, their passengers gazing up at J. Pierpoint Morgan's office windows. The police feared the gasoline tank of the blazing machine might catch fire and blow up, and they did their utmost to keep the crowd away, though its curiosity was much greater than its fear, and the bluecoats' efforts availed little.

When smoke began issuing from the front of the auto, an officer who saw it ran into the Stock Exchange and got a large hand extinguisher. He emptied this on the machine with little effect. Meanwhile a crowd of hundreds of persons rushed to the scene from all parts of the financial district and the traffic squad had a busy time. Business was suspended on the Stock Exchange while the brokers watched the burning auto.

Reply of Wallace.

John F. Wallace, who resigned as member and chief engineer of the Panama canal commission, and whom Secretary Taft charged with leaving the canal work at a critical moment, gave out a statement in New York last night, replying to Secretary Taft. Mr. Wallace says:

"The primary causes which led me to tender my resignation as chief engineer of the Isthmian canal commission were underlying and fundamental, and I must emphatically resent the charge that my motive in leaving the work was a financial one. A careful consideration of the entire subject had brought me to the decision that I should disconnect myself with the work at the earliest possible date that it could be done without embarrassment to the administration or injury to the work. It is unnecessary to state the reasons for this decision, except that in fairness I should say that they involve no criticism of any act of the President or the Secretary of War."

He says his decision to leave, without embarrssment to the government was the result of deliberations on his way to Colon in May. He says methods must be reformed if the canal is built in a reasonable time.

Suicide of a Captain.

Shortly after 12 o'clock yesterday morning Howard Ford, captain of the schooner I. P. Pierson, which plies between Petersburg and Philadelphia, committed suicide by shooting himself with a revolver in the house of Kate Bell, in Petersburg. Ford had gone to the house to seek an interview with his wife, who was living at that place under the assumed name of Beulah Carter. It was stated that when Ford went to the house his wife was in a room upstairs, and that when she entered the parlor Ford drew a revolver from his pocket and asked his wife if she loved him. The woman says she knocked the weapon from Ford's hands and fled from the room, and that the shot was fired soon afterward. The ball took effect in the right temple, and Ford's death was apparently instantaneous. Ford's wife had left him on the pretext that life on the water did not agree with her health. Capt. Ford was a native of Vineland, N. J., and was about twenty-six years of age. He married Beulah Carter, who is about forty years of age, in Annapolis, Md., last February. She went to Petersburg last May. She is a native of Southampton county, Va.

Rich Wife Must Pay Poor Husband.

Judge Harrison in the Circuit Court at Winchester on Wednesday decided an important case which, in effect, is that the impecunious husband of a wealthy woman who has acted as her agent or trustee is entitled to compensation therefore, and the creditors of the husband may require the wife to pay him adequate compensation in order that the amount may be subjected to the payment of the claims held against the husband.

The case was that of Joseph W. Solenberger against Mrs. Barbara A. Solenberger and her husband, Noah W. Solenberger. The complainant is a creditor of Noah W. Solenberger, and the court held that the latter is the agent for his wife. The court directed that an order be entered inquiring into the extent of the services he has rendered as trustee, so that adequate compensation may be fixed, and this amount applied to the payment of the husband's debts.

The Music Master's Ruse.

A very rich lady offered Garcia any price if he would only teach her daughter. He refused, knowing well he could never obtain serious work from her; but, as the mother persisted, he hit upon a compromise. He asked the ladies to be present during a lesson, and he undertook, if the girl still wished to learn singing after hearing it taught, to teach her. The lesson began. The pupil, who seemed to the listeners an already finished singer, had to repeat passage after passage of the most difficult exercises before the master was satisfied. He insisted upon the minutest attention to every detail of execution. Mother and daughter exchanged horrified glances and looked on pityingly. The lesson finished, the master bowed the ladies out, and in passing the pupil the young girl whispered to her, "It would kill me!" Senor Garcia, returning from the door, said contentedly: "They will not come again. Thank you, mon enfant, you sang well."—London Mail.

Do Birds Sing?

A naturalist has written to prove that birds are not singers, but whistlers; that is to say, that the notes are produced through a tube—to be technical, through the slit known as the glottis—not by the help of vocal cords. But the whole distinction is beside the point. Any one who has seen a bird singing will have seen both the vibrations in his throat and the variations in the extent to which he opens and closes his beak or mandibles; and, given these accompaniments, together with the production of an inarticulate language, whistling and singing become identical terms suggesting a distinction. People are accustomed to the idea that only a few species of birds, such as the parrot and the jackdaw, can be taught, but in wild life almost all birds are mimics to some extent, and probably more of them than people realize could be taught to imitate human sounds.—Pearson's Weekly.

Beginnings of Clubs.

The first club of modern England seems to have been the circle at the Mermaid that Sir Walter Raleigh founded and Shakespeare joined. But in the seventeenth century clubs began to spring up like mushrooms. There was the Calves' Head club, whose members met and dined off calves' heads to show their contempt for the decapitated Charles I. Then came the Kit-Kat club, which, according to Addison, took its name from a mutton pie. One Christopher Kat, a pastry cook of Shire lane, was a distinguished constructor of mutton pies, and his productions were called Kit-Kats. The club meeting in his house and eating his pies acquired the pies' name for its own.—London Telegraph.

Travels of the Cuckoo.

A feature in bird travels is the departure south of the old and young cuckoos at a different time. The old cuckoos set out first, leaving the young birds of the year to follow. The adult cuckoos—one might put it by a stretch of imagination—so much dislike the fuss and anxiety of traveling en famille that they take care to go on first and by themselves. Whether the old cuckoos ever know their progeny by sight cannot be said for certain—probably not, although an old cuckoo is constantly to be heard and seen in the coppice or hedgerow or about the garden where a young one is being reared by a hedge sparrow, pipit or wagtail.—London Opinion.

Furious Fighting.

"For seven years," writes Geo. W. Hoffman, of Harper, Wash., "I had a bitter battle, with chronic stomach and liver trouble, but at last I won and by the use of Electric Bitters. In unhesitatingly recommend them to all, and don't intend in the future to be without them in the house. They are certainly a wonderful medicine, to have cured such a bad case as mine." Sold, under guarantee to do the same for you, by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, druggist, at 50c. a bottle. Try them today.

Found a Cure for Dyspepsia.

Mrs. S. Lindsay, of Fort William, Ontario, Canada, who was suffering quite a number of years from dyspepsia and great pains in the stomach, was advised by her druggist to take Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. She did so and says, "I find that they have done me a great deal of good. I have never had any suffering since I began using them." If troubled with dyspepsia or indigestion why not take these Tablets, get well and stay well? For sale by Gibson & Timberman and W. F. Creighton & Co.

Quality vs. Quantity.

Hard muscles and strong body do not depend on the quantity of food you eat, but on its perfect digestion and proper assimilation. When you take Kodol Dyspepsia Cure your system gets all the nourishment out of all the food you eat. It digests what you eat regardless of the condition of the stomach and conveys the nutrient properities to the blood and tissues. This builds up and strengthens the entire system. Kodol cures Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Belching, Sour Stomach, Weak Heart, etc. Sold by W. F. Creighton, 401 King street, and corner Queen and Patrick.
